

Margaret Salek Raymond

June 17, 1926 - June 15, 2017

Margaret Salek Raymond, 90, passed peacefully at home surrounded by her family. Margie grew up in Raritan Borough, NJ and would tell stories of going to the beach with her friends, ice skating with her brothers, riding in the rumble seat of the family car, and riding her bicycle. At the age of 19, she met her future husband, Walter E. Raymond, who lived on a farm in Belle Mead. They met at a barn dance in North Jersey; the running joke in the family is that Margie didn't like to farm, but went to a barn dance full of farmers. Walt and Margie were married in 1949 and had 3 daughters: Susan, Carol and Nancy.

Margie loved the sunshine, the beach, singing, gardening, and taking care of her two granddaughters. Margie loved to polka, and watching Lawrence Welk, Bonanza and Walker Texas Ranger. She was a parishioner of St. Charles Borromeo Church and loved to sing at Mass. She loved her sweets, and would often eat Hersey's kisses or cookies while her lunch and/or dinner was being made. Carvel sundaes were her favorite. She truly believed in "life is short-eat dessert first".

Margie was predeceased by her husband, Walter, her daughter Susan, and her brothers Edward and Joseph Salek.

Margaret is survived by two daughters, Carol Raymond (Ellen Robbins) and Nancy Raymond. The two joys of her life, granddaughters Emily and Samantha Homan, six sisters-in-law, Peg Tarr, Doris Taft, Marian Snedeker, Joan Raymond, Jean Salek Kobiela, Gerturde Joyce Salek and many nieces and nephews.
